

What you missed on our first Sunday Event in August

On a lovely Sunday evening our own Praise Chorus led the First Sunday Event with five young talented musicians who treated the congregation to some excellent playing and singing. They were accompanied on the piano by Judith Tomlinson

Decorating of the Community Room

I would like to express my thanks to all who helped in the decoration of the community room. I bet you never thought decorating could be so much fun. The task was made easy by many of you giving a few hours of your precious time during the week. I would especially thank Jeff Odell for the extra support throughout the project. You can all be proud of a job well done.

Salvation Army Symphonic Wind Ensemble

The SASWE was established in 1994. Their current leader is Andrew Mackereth who is the bandmaster at Nuneaton. Andrew is well known in the The Salvation Army world as an imaginative composer and arranger. The group has a repertoire which is diverse and encompasses classical transcriptions and original work for concert bands as well as familiar Salvation Army brass band compositions

Mel Page Melanie needs little introduction to us as she has supported our Corps at numerous events which we are grateful for. Melanie loves to sing songs from the heart that can reach into your soul. Words sometimes can't express how you are feeling but music can speak, and this is what Melanie's mission is, to speak to your soul using her voice.

Lieutenant Annmarie Gifford

I am originally from Street in Somerset. Gillian and Richard have been my officers when I was in Lincoln for University. I was a teacher before I was an Officer. I love dogs, walking and crocheting
